German army needs ‘enemy image’ – top MP

Russia’s military action in Ukraine has allowed Germany to once again see “what an enemy could look like,” a senior German MP has said.

Except the stupid bitch Marie-Agnes Strack-Zimmermann covers up the fact that NATO, of which Germany is a member, promised never to put weapons on Russia’s border, and lied, and now is spewing bullshit to whitewash German stupidity. They followed Hitler like a bunch of Dummköpfes, and now are following Herr Biden, ein ignoranter amerikanischer Clown. The enemies they need a picture of is the entire German government. You know the ones that shut down Germany’s Nuclear power plants, the ones with aufgesprungene Lippen vom Küssen amerikanischer Ärsche.

A complex modernization of the German Armed Forces would require re-inventing “an image of an enemy,” Marie-Agnes Strack-Zimmermann, the head of the German Bundestag’s Defense Committee, has said. Now, as Russia continues its military operation in Ukraine, the Bundeswehr sees once again “what an enemy might look like,” the MP told the RND media group on Tuesday.

Except of course the enemy being those of the German elected functionaries, the clowns that flood the nation with immigrants, damage the German economy with stupid moves, and shut down social discussion so their complete and utter stupidity can never be discussed, like any free society should encourage.

A whopping €100 billion ($107.35 billion)-worth military modernization fund announced by the German government on Tuesday is a major boost to the German Armed Forces, which marks “the first step” on a long road of the German military “meeting the expectations” of Berlin’s NATO partners, Strack-Zimmermann said. But it is not the only thing needed for the Bundeswehr to get on its feet once again, the senior MP and member of the Free Democratic Party (FDP) believes.

Their NATO partners include the United States which is the largest war monger on earth, its biggest liar, and which suffers from administrative cancer which has infiltrated the entire body politic and in which successive administrations have fucked up one of the most successful nations on earth and now a single administration run by a bunch of no nothing morons is trying to deliver the coup de gras and finish America off in a single term. Their entire strategy is to bully competitors militarily and financially into compliance. The citizens of any country whose leaders capitulate to that pressure should reasonably assume their leaders are tainted and corrupt and must be thrown out. Look at Zelenskyy in Ukraine.

“What we need – that may sound belligerent – what the Bundeswehr needs from its point of view to act is an image of an enemy,” the MP told RND. Strack-Zimmermann has argued that, over the years, the Bundeswehr has lost this image of a potential enemy, particularly since Russia was no longer perceived as such during the years of what she called an “appeasement policy.”

She simply needs to look in a mirror to see an enemy.

“Now we know what an enemy might look like; what it looks like in this case,” the MP has said, referring to Russia’s ongoing military operation in Ukraine. According to Strack-Zimmermann, the current developments also mean that NATO has to “adapt” to potential threats from China and Iran as well as to develop a strategy of “how we continue to deal with Russia.”

China’s threat is their people are hungry, work hard, smart and cheap and have already proven they can knock off everything Germany makes for less money. China’s leaders can read and observe the American playbook, copy the parts that are useful and use them with their own additions to forge a new path for the 88% of the people that do not live in NATO member countries. Simply put, the 88% of the world are under no illusions about the bullshit story of spreading democracy and being subject to the rule of a bunch of self-aggrandizing European and American bureaucrats. They gain the wonderful option of having China, a nation with the wealth, proven track record, and willingness to compete with the American and NATO cabal, as another supplier to choose from. In fact, America should not be considered a supplier under the majority of circumstance when you think of the fact that if you don’t agree to their terms, they will destroy you militarily and financially and recruit the ghouls from NATO to hover over you like living dead with nothing more to offer than arrogance and threats. They would have to be stupid to eliminate that option because of American and NATO propaganda.

China has nearly 1.5 billion people to feed and clothe and is adopting strategies to do that. America only wants to feed and clothe a few hundred thousand functionaries, the rich that pay them off, and as for the rest of the population, fuckem, they have to share everything with a bunch of illegal immigrants who might just vote Democrat. What a shitshow.

That means you need the image of a possible enemy who wants to take away our freedom and democracy. And that's what we're seeing right now.

You mean like Germany wants to do with its social media law, Austria with its lockdowns over Covid, the world's most elaborate propaganda virus ever to spread around the earth, and America does to its people on a regular basis. Please, you must think you are talking to children you pompöse Narren. The world does not need a bunch of pompous assholes that number so few that a few large stadiums could hold all of them, telling nearly 8 billion people how to live. Their track record proves it, and just because the German people are completely compliant followers, remember Adolf Hitler, does not mean that national stupidity is exportable like a disease.

The MP has, however, admitted that the German Armed Forces still have “a lot of catching up to do” in a whole number of fields, ranging from the soldiers’ personal equipment to army digitalization, as well as the modernization of medical services, the Navy, and cyber defense.

According to the lawmaker, Germany is “the fourth biggest economy of the world but that cannot be said about our military.”

Strack-Zimmermann also said that the MPs were expected to set the €100 billion-worth modernization plan “in motion” on Friday. Last Sunday, the lawmakers agreed to a special exemption required to borrow the money and invest it in the military.

The ruling coalition needed the support of opposition lawmakers to secure two thirds of the votes to adopt the decision, which would require an amendment to Germany’s Basic Law.

Germany currently has the fourth-largest military force among NATO members, but the bloc’s biggest armies are fielded by non-European nations: the US and Turkey. Currently, the German army trails behind that of another European powerhouse – France – when it comes to military strength.

Russia attacked Ukraine in late February, following Kiev's failure to implement the terms of the Minsk agreements, first signed in 2014, and Moscow's eventual recognition of the Donbass republics of Donetsk and Lugansk. The German- and French-brokered Minsk Protocol was designed to give the breakaway regions special status within the Ukrainian state.

The Kremlin has since demanded that Ukraine officially declare itself a neutral country that will never join the US-led NATO military bloc. Kiev insists the Russian offensive was completely unprovoked and has denied claims it was planning to retake the two republics by force.
